

where NYC homeowners live

Fresh Start Fridays: 4 apartments that let the sun shine in

Friday, March 5, 2010

It's still scurvy season in the Northeast, especially if your apartment tends toward the crypt end of the spectrum. Today on Fresh Start Fridays we turn our jaundiced eye on four sun-soaked apartments that might even help with your seasonal affective disorder.

(4) One-bedroom, one-bath prewar co-op at 202 West 92nd Street features southern and eastern exposures, a skylight, a 500-square-foot private roof deck, and a washer/dryer. $679,000, $742/maint. [Barak Realty]

Kathryn Swift
646-420-8926
kathryn@BarakNY.com

BARAK REALTY